

Linda

Owner & Director

Linda is a graduate from Glasgow University who has been working as a freelance drama tutor in Edinburgh for the past eight years. As well as facilitating after school clubs and youth theatre groups, Linda has been involved in various educational workshops in schools in and around Edinburgh. Over the years she has performed with various theatre groups including Theatre Workshop, Arkle and The Edinburgh Graduate Theatre Company and has worked as a voice over artist and as a TEFL teacher. Working as an English and drama tutor in Japan, she has also been a drama workshop leader at summer camps in Kyoto through the government run Japanese Exchange Teaching programme (JET). After relocating to East Linton in 2012, Linda decided to set up The Drama Mill in East Lothian in order to provide drama classes in the villages and towns of the East Coast. This was a great move as she was able to combine doing a job that she absolutely loves in one of the most beautiful parts of Scotland. She is passionate about drama and believes it to be a vital tool to increase children's confidence and growth.

Lara

Facilitator

Lara is a fourth year acting student at Edinburgh Napier and Queen Margaret Universities, who has loved the theatre since the age of three! She has taught drama for two years now, starting with a year within a school teaching children as part of their curriculum and in the past year with The Drama Mill. Which she thoroughly enjoys! Lara also has an interest in drama therapy and hopes to continue on to study this in the future.
